Policies on Public Displays of Affection and on Respecting Personal Space

Policy on Public Displays of Affection

CSS values and encourages the building of trusting relationships and true, long lasting friendships for the contribution these make to the dignity and well-being of whole school community.

Students are required to maintain high standards of personal respect, respect for others and a common sense appreciation of what decent behaviour is, at all times. The consequences of choosing not to abide by these requirements are proportionate to the severity and frequency of the transgression. These range from warnings, to parental involvement, detention, recommendations for counselling, suspension and exclusions.

Beyond the school's requirements students must be aware of the legal ages of consent and the serious personal and legal consequences of breaking the law.

If students have any doubt about the appropriateness of a relationship, they are strongly advised to seek the confidential advice of the School Counsellor.

Policy on Respecting Personal Space

CSS students are expected to respect and uphold the rights of others and take responsibility for their own actions.

Through their thoughts and actions students must, at all times;

- Respect the physical, mental and emotional person of others
- Respect the personal space and the property of others
- Refrain from any uninvited and unwelcome physical contact with others

Whilst constructive "whole school" approaches are used to promote and foster appropriate behaviour, certain types of behaviour are wholly unacceptable.

These behaviours include intentionally causing physical, mental and emotional injury or harm, impairing the health and safety of any person, and any form of physical aggression.

Responses to serious infringements of behaviour may include suspension or exclusion from the school.
